GENERAL CONDITIONS FOR RESERVED FORESTS.

I.—The rights continued in the Reserved Forests of Kulu Proper, Inner Sahraj, Outer Sahraj and Rupi, with the exception of rights admitted to the Rai of Rupi, are subject to the following general provisions :—

(1). All rights to forest produce or grazing are subject to such conditions as to payment or otherwise as Government may see fit to impose at a revision of the Land Revenue Settlement.

(2). All rights are appendant to the cultivated land of the recorded rightholders, and may be acquired and alienated only with such land.

(3). Forest produce obtained in the exercise of admitted rights may not be sold or bartered or alienated in any other way.

(4). A right to forest produce is extinguished when the object over which the right is exercised ceases to exist; and Government is not in any way bound to take special steps to prevent the object (admitting of the exercise of the right) ceasing to exist in the ordinary course of nature, nor may the right-holders take such steps.

Illustration.—A phat is being covered up with young kelo or kail. Government is not bound to, and the rightholders may not, cut down the trees or in other ways endeavour to ensure the continued existence of the phat.

(5). In case of dispute as to the number of cattle, sheep or goats that any right-holder may graze, or the number of trees he may cut, the number must be determined with reference to the relative amount of revenue paid by each rightholder, the total for all rightholders never exceeding the recorded maximum.

(6). A portion of any forest may be closed with the sanction of competent authority for such time as may be necessary, and all or any of the rights admitted in the forest may be suspended in such portion for such time, provided that the area open for the exercise of these rights be sufficient and in a locality reasonably convenient for the exercise of these rights.

II.—The rights allowed to the Rai of Rupi in the reserved forests of Rupi are subject to the following general provisions :—

(1). Forest produce obtained in the exercise of admitted rights may not be sold or bartered or alienated in any other way.

(2). A right to forest produce is extinguished when the object over which the right is exercised ceases to exist, and Government is not in any way bound to take special steps to prevent the object (admitting of the exercise of the right) ceasing to exist in the ordinary course of nature, nor may the Rai take such steps.

Illustration.—If the chestnut trees in a forest all die out, Government is not bound to, and the Rai may not, plant such trees to ensure the continued exercise of the right to take chestnuts.

(3). A portion of any forest may be closed with the sanction of competent authority for such time as may be necessary, and all or any of the rights to forest produce admitted in the forest may be suspended in such portion for such time, provided that the area open for the exercise of these rights be sufficient and in a locality reasonably convenient for the exercise of these rights.

(4). The Rai may charge whatever consideration he thinks proper for the licenses to snare musk deer and hawks.

(5). The Rai is responsible that the nets and snares are in reality suitable for the capture of musk deer and hawks, and not intended for the capture of pheasants or other game.

It may not be taken from any new place without the Forest Officer's permission. (8). The following non-residents who have land in Kasol, viz:— Khub Ram of Manikarn, Jagat Ram ,, ,, Thikam Ram ,, Tauk, Brestu ,, Choj, Brestu ,, Goj. may not graze sheep and goats in this forest. (9). Except in the matter of building timber and sheep and goat grazing, non-residents have the same rights as residents, but they may not remove forest produce from the village. These rights have been admitted on the understanding that the bridges across the Grahan Nal and the Parbati River are kept up. The one across the Grahan Nal is maintained all the year, but the one across the Parbati only in winter. Trees for these bridges must be given from this forest. If the bridges are not maintained, the rights allowed to this village of Kasol in Khobis beyond the Grahan Nal and in Reoni beyond the Parbati, must be admitted in this reserve for the time the bridges have ordinarily been standing. These bridges have hitherto been built by the people. II.—The following right is admitted to Grahan village— Right to lop ban and mohru trees to any height for fodder from Mangsir to Baisakh (both inclusive), III.—The following right is admitted to Manikarni and Goj villages:— Right to take slates from the Nalgara quarry provided damage is not done to trees. If damage is done, the full price of the trees must be paid No new quarry may be opened without the Forees Officer's permission. The main road to Manikarn goes through the forest, and must remain open as a thoroughfare, so long as it remains the main road. There are several paths through the forest used by Kasol village, but only in the exercise of rights. These rights are all subject to the general provisions recorded for the Rupi Reserves. IV.—The following rights are admitted to the Rai of Rupi:— (1). Right to take slates from the Nalgara quarry, provided damage is not done to trees. If damage is done to trees the full price of the trees must be paid. No new quarry may be opened without the Forest Officer's permiesion. (2). Right to give licenses to snare musk deer in spring and summer up to the rains, and from 15th September to end of December. These two rights are subject to the general provisions recorded for the Rai's right in the Rupi Reserves. V.—The fields specified below are included in the forest and may be cultivated as heretofore:—

RIGHT-HOLDERS.

No.	Hamlets, etc., having rights.	Rights.	REMARKS.
1	Chauki	Full rights.	In his Assessment Report of the Jagir, Mr. Clarke, Assistant Commissioner, wrote as follows :—" The Malana stream is not the boundary of the Kanawar Kothi for its whole length. From the junction of the Malana and the Parbati the boundary ascends the ridge which forms the watershed between the two rivers, and follows it for a considerable distance before it again descends to the bed of the stream, which is the boundary in its upper course." This is incorrect—see Lyall's Settlement Report, paragraph 75. The ridge is the boundary, and the line having once gone up to the ridge, does not again descend to the stream.

9	Monali	Gumeri	.....	Solang ... Full rights, but cattle do not go into the forest. Thaches— Lolra ... Grazed by Sabarnu, son of Bahadur; Samtu, son of Twarsu, and with them the sheep of Barahar, Krihar, Pij and Bal Phatis of Maharaja Kothi. Shelagahru ... Seri-da-Nal ... Grazed by Palchan Phati. Dhan-chuli ... Mahli ... Grazed by Sawaru, son of Paras Ram, and Manu, son of Kumbar, and with them the sheep of Bal Phati of Maharaja Kothi. Rawala-gahru ... Daku-da-dugh ... Pakrota ... Grazed by Bagtu, son of Budh Ram, and with them the sheep of Rajgiri, and Shilahar Phatis of Khokhan Kothi, and after they leave Palchan Phati. Dundi ...	Bagtu of Khokhan Kothi claimed Seri-da-Nal and Dhan-chuli, as well as the two admitted to be grazed by him, but the evidence recorded is against his claim, and it is also not supported by the settlement record. It is customary for the Rasus of the Lagwal sheep to have their fields manured by the joint flocks before starting for the thaches and after their return. This is said to be the only consideration they take. The Lagwal sheep do not remain in the thaches on their way to Lahoul, but on their return they graze in them for two months, Assauj and Kartik.

				Khanora	Grazed by Palchan Phati in Jait and Baisakh and by Kothi village alone in Bhadron, Assauj.
12	Do.	Matiban	.....	Gushal Kuling	Full rights ...	Brahn and Drar villages of Kais Kothi claimed right of grazing sheep in Siandar, Rai-age and Kathior thaches, but the claim was not supported by any sanad, nor by an entry at settlement, and being in part denied by Gushal it was disallowed, as Gushal village has no authority to allow outsiders to graze for any consideration. There was otherwise much contention as to the thaches in this forest, Kuling claiming rights that were denied by Gushal. The settlement record was, as far as possible, adhered to. The grazing in this forest is very extensive, and there has probably not been any well-established arrangements as to what villages should grazo.
				Thaches—
				Siandar, Rai-age, Kathior, Jamu-dugh, Neru-di-Sari, Mohri-da-dugh (or Mohru) Balidugh.	Grazed by Gushal.
				Tath ...	,, ,, and Kuling; but in all these thaches Kuling may graze, but may not pen its sheep. The sheep of the Palchan Phati may also graze when manuring fields, that is, in Kandatr.

In Dohangnu basin grazed by Jagatsukh. Charauri is said to be grazed by Srigarh Kothi, but no claim was put in. Tikru-di-tapri ... Grazed by Banara and Jagatsukh.	There has been a long-standing dispute between the Shuru and Prini people as to the division of the thaches. Shuru claiming many more than are now recorded in its name; not that Shuru has not ample grazing for its sheep, but because of the manure and the wool given by the Gaddi shepherds to those who are supposed to have the first right (see the Report). The cattle of Jagatsukh go into this forest only when it is too cold for them to graze in Brunt dhar, on the other side of the Dohangnu.

24	Nagar ...	Parol ...	Cultivation included in the forest above Karohl village—	Sharan ...	In regard to most of the thaches from Pat-thach to Santich, there was a virulent dispute between two parts of Nagar Kothi. In former days, when Jamlu Deo was much feared, the people of Pulang, Soich, Sharan and Rumsu were attached to the Malana temple, which had mafis in these villages; and there was no intercourse between these people and the rest of Nagar Phati, of which they now form a part. These four villages now claim equal rights with the others. The only means of settling the dispute was to record the thaches in the name of the whole Phati, except where there was some satisfactory evidence to proceed upon.

If the one grazes Sarun, the other grazes Bapas. They are only Rasus for their Kothis, and whoever grazes gives a goat to Phungini Deo.	A dispute arose as to these thaches in which the Rasu Churu had allowed Mandi sheep to graze on payment, and it was admitted that he had no right to do so. The Sarun, Bapas, Kanen, Bei, Shanabi and Sari thaches were in the olden times considered the property of the Phungini Deo, who is still so much respected in the Sarvari Valley, and whoever grazes in them must give a goat or a sheep to the Jogini.

No.	Kothi.	Forest.	Proprietary rights, being cultivation included in the forest limits.	Forest rights admitted.	Remarks.
1	Pandrabis ...	Brati ...	.....	Daman ... Nal ... Kyundhar ... } Full rights. Dhar ... Humku ... Ban ... Sarga ... Kail ... Mohal ... Barguri ... Bagan ... } Building timber and nirgal. Thaches. Brati ... Shila ... Mira-gai. ... Keloa-dhar ... Shalu-marach ... Aleo ... Mandru ... Chul ... Tikar ... Nag-jata ... Chalao ... Khania-dhera ... Timbi ... } These are all gahrs grazed by the sheep of Kushua and Sarga Phatis, and also occasionally by some from Tunan Phati, under Kesu, Rasu of Mohal. Moharna ... } This nigahr is grazed by Bali Phati of Dhaul Kothi, under Daya Ram, Rasu, and after them the sheep of Pandrabis Kothi under Kesu, Rasu. If the Dhaul sheep do not come in Sawan, they may not graze at all. This was the arrangement agreed to after considerable discussion.	There is a dispute as to the boundary between Kulu and Basahir at this point, vide Forest Settlement Officer's No. 14, dated 13th May 1882, to Deputy Commissioner. In the area between the Dunku Dhar and the Jawadi-gar, the Kulu people claim the following thaches:—Maloa, Maler, Dadla which lie comparatively low down; also Manjko, Gaithach and Khori, which are nigahrs. There is a dispute among the Kulu people as to who have rights in these nigahrs. Kesu Rasu of Mohal claimed a right in Gai and Khori thaches to the exclusion of all others. Daya Ram, Rasu of Dhaul Kothi, claimed a right in Khori, which is more valuable than Gaithach in which the Pandrabis people were inclined to let Dhaul sheep graze. Laju Negi of Kot Rasu grazes in Manjko. Grass is also cut by Sarga village beyond the Mohaligar, which is considered by the Basahir people to be the boundary. The great sheep path to Dunku runs along the main ridge through the following thaches;—Mathed, Ganagai, Paulu-chaner, Maghain, Baihla, Matoli, Mauta, Ucha, Moharna, Nokua-pani, Karna-Dunku.
2	Ditto ...	Jiya ...	.....	Bagan ... Ban ... Humku ... } Full rights, except building timber. Sarga ... Dhar ... } Fodder leaves, fuel, agricultural implements and goat grazing in Posh and Magh. Kail ... Shah ... } Fodder leaves, fuel, agricultural implements.

3	Ditto ...	Siaru Nal ..	.....	Mohal ... Fodder leaves, agricultural imp'ements, sheep and goat grazing in winter. Barguri ... Fodder leaves. Thaches. Shila ... Dharo ... Chiunt ... } These gahrs are grazed by the sheep of Pandrabis under Kesu, Rasu as for Brati No. 1. Dadai ... Badi jan piche ... Kindal ... Kater ... } Full rights. Kushua ... Chil for building purposes and fallen dry chil and stumps for torches. Humchain of Kanawar Basahir grazes on the Bagruri-age Dhar and on to Dunju. He, or some one on his behalf, brings sheep. This winter ban is known as Bhandari, and whoever grazes it pays Rs. 6 to the Pandrabis Kothi.	There are 7 runs in this kothi on the banks of the Sutlej in which foreign sheep graze— (1). Kunrard, above Siaru Nal, below Bangcha, grazed by Pitambar Das of Basahir, who pays no tirni, as he alleges he holds it free from a former Raja of Kulu, but he gives a large goat to Jakru Nag in Humku. (2) Bhandari, from Bagruri-age Dhar to Dunju, included in demarcated area. (3). Sharu, from Dunju to Bandar-thana, grazed by Manohar Das, Wazir of Basahir. No tirni is paid; same as (1). (4). Gada-Mawa, from Bandar-thana to Odidhar, included in demarcated area (2nd class forest No 6) (5). Hocha-Mawa, from Odidhar to Chakchaki Dhar, grazed by Kala Patwar of Plach Kothi, who pays Rs. 4-8 to Pandrabis Kothi (6) Baukhun, from Chakchaki Dhar to Ludru Nal, grazed by Manohar Negi of Plach, who pays Rs. 4 to Pandrabis Kothi. (7). Ahzar and Trawi, lying above Baukhun, grazed by Charkhu and Jaid of Basahir, who pay Rs. 2-8 to Pandrabis Kothi. A sum of Rs. 23 is now paid by Pandrabis Kothi along with the revenue on account of these runs.
4	Ditto ...	Dobda ...	The following fields are included in this forest, and may be cultivated as heretofore:— Khasra. Proprietor. Area. Bh. Pa. 301 Rirku, &c., sons of Ramku, Kanet 0 1 302 Danarth, son of Sitalu, Kanet. 0 2 Total ... 0 3 The grass land is not held in proprietary right, but grass may be cut as heretofore.	Narku ... 5	Pandrabis ...	Bagori ...	.....	Thaches. Damach ... } These gahrs are grazed by Parsu, Rasu of Dwari, and with him the sheep of the villages between Khuni-gar and Kajau-gar. Raita ... } Raksdalo nigahr is grazed by Parsu, Rasu, as above. Baila nigahr is grazed by Binu Negi, who is Rasu of Kandi Kothi. Parsu, Rasu of Pandrabis also claimed a right but the record now made is in accordance with the entry made at the Revenue Settlement in Kot Kothi, and also with the evidence produced. Shamattan ... } These gahrs, were claimed both by Parsu Rasu and by Daya Ram and Murli Das of Dhaul Kothi. Perhaps both parties have grazed in these thaches, and the question of right is left to the Civil Courts. Alco ... Chotri ... Lamba-thach ... Dobda ... Bagori-gahr ... } Grazed by Murli Das, Rasu, of Dhaul Kothi, and with him the sheep of Soich Phati. Matloli-nigahr ... } Dabru-gahr ... } Grazed by Daya Ram. Rasu, of Dhaul Kothi, and with him the sheep of Bali Phati There was a dispute as to the rights of Murli Das and Daya Ram, but the above record is in keeping with existing facts. Moreover, Mauta was recorded (as in Kot Kothi) at the Revenue Settlement in the name of Dhaul Kothi. Mauta-nigahr ... Ucha „ ...
6	Ditto ...	Gada Mawa ...	.....	Nal ... } Full rights. Sar-age ... } Kader .. Mawa ... Chil for building purposes, dry fallen chil and stumps for torches. Kungsha nigahr is grazed by Kalaunt, Kaloti and Jau, villages. Bimdwari Nigahr—Claims for the grazing in this nigahr were put in by Jai Das, Rasu, of Tindar, and Parm Das, Rasu, of Kashaini in Kandi Kothi. It was arranged that Jai Das should merely pass through this nigahr to Kot Kothi and should not remain in the thach to graze, and that Parm Das, should graze only in Bahramgarh Kothi, not in Kot Kothi: that is, his sheep should remain on the right side of the Bimdwari Nal. With Parm Das come the sheep of Dawa, Jaon and Kashaini. Tachru is only passed through by sheep going to Danda, Kungsha, Bimdwari; also by the sheep of Tindar and Jawagi. Jamer, Kutna, Pali, Nagot and Phati Koila claim a right to graze with Parm Das, Rasu of Nohr, but the claim was denied by the Bahrampur people.

It was entered in the Settlement Record in name of Tos, and that record is maintained. Thakaru may bring a suit to establish his claim.	The Suket, Sahraj and Rupi sheep coming from the lower kothis do not go into Surjani, Keoni or Nalchi, but keep on the left bank of the Parbati as far as the Balu Bridge, which they cross, and keep along the main road, crossing the Bramganga, and spending a night at Raskar. They cross the Shila Bridge and recross by the Garthigar Bridge, following the main road to Barsaini. Here some of the Sahraj and Rupi sheep leave the road and go into the Tos Nal and the extensive grassy slopes above the forests. Most of the Suket sheep cross by the Phulga Bridge, pass through Kutangcho, recross again by the Chipuling Dippi to Nakthan, and again by the Mandar Dippi to Kirganga, on the left side of the Parbati. Some, however, keep on the right bank from Barsaini, but all go to Kirganga, a large flat plain, where all meet, and then go to their different runs.

Ram Chand of Bahlan is Rasu of these thaches, and with him come the sheep of Bahlan, Rewar and Dhara. Ram Chand does not graze Dilar nigahr, which has for some 14 years been grazed by Chingu of Srigarh Kothi, who gives through Ram Chand a goat as a propitiatory offering to Jamlu Deo of Tos. Tiri-rewar nigahr has been grazed by Mula of Srigarh Kothi.

Bai-niru nigahr ...
Raita gahr ...

Grazed by Phagu village of Chung. The nigahr is grazed as of right, but the gahr once belonged to Moti Ram, son of Anup Ram of Bahlan, who has not grazed for many years, and who cannot now be considered to have any right even though Phagu village has given him 5 annas per annum.

Sara nigahr ...
Kotu or Kotlu nigahr
Umga nigahr ...

Grazed by Raskar and Uchich but in consideration of manure to Raskar and Uchich, Binu, of Srigarh Kothi has been allowed to graze in Kotu or Kotlu.

Dumgan nigahr—Grazed by Sangat Ram, &c., of Kathera, Himri Kothi, who give a sheep as a propitiatory offering to Jamlu Deo of Tos. Ram Chand once grazed it, but now he has no right.

Chalchali nigahr—Grazed by Rangu and Anant Ram of Himri Kothi, who give a small goat as a propitiatory offering to Jamlu Deo of Tos. This is a good nigahr, but has the reputation of being haunted, as several shepherds have died.

Dharing gahr—Grazed by Narindi and Bini Ram of Jauja, who give a small goat as a propitiatory offering to Jamlu Deo of Tos.

There are 4 flocks under Bimu, who graze group (1); Jabi, group (2); Debu, group (3); and Mohnu, group (4). In consideration of manure to Tos village, Sariya Negi of Himri has been accustomed to graze Tichu nigahr and Drangar gahr with Tos; but the gahr only in autumn. The other gahrs in group (1) are not grazed by the Sahraj sheep, which require to go down earlier than the village sheep. Rangu and Anant Ram of Himri Kothi, who graze Chalchali nigahr, graze Kral-nihas along with Tos in return for manure. Last year there was a dispute about Jamu thach, which, contrary to the wish of Tos, was grazed by Mula of Srigarh Kothi with consent of the Rai, but Mula has no right.

				Painj-ra-losha nigahr was claimed by Tahlu, son of Khem Das of Chauki; also by Tos village. Painju was entered at Settlement in name of Tos, and so also here, but the sheep of Chauki have grazed somewhere in Tos Nal, and some of the Tos people did say it had been grazed by sheep from Kotkandi. In this way Dinu of Janja has been accustomed to graze Kareri and Rahn and Damkus, and last year Phalsu, there being some dispute with Maru, of Dadai. Bhagat of Roghopur has grazed Mari-age.

5	Kanawar ...	Kirganga ...	.....	Nakthan—Grass and leaves of chestnut, mohru, elm and magshel for fodder. Kail, rai and tos for building purposes, jamu and maple for agricultural implements, chestnuts. Tulga—Sheep and goat grazing in Baisakh and Mangsir. Minor produce such as karu, patis, &c. Thaches. Bun-buni gahr ... Ohoti „ ... Choring „ ... — Held by Tulga village, which, in return for manure allows Sham Das of Sukot to graze in Bun-buni and Choti. Choring has been grazed by various shepherds, last year by Duru of Jan, Harkandi Kothi. All who have land in Tulga are entitled to manure, even Chingku and Binu of Barsaini, who have recently acquired land. Tanang nigahr ... Ori-age (1) „ ... Manjua-kol „ ... Mara-age „ ... Tapra-age dothla ... — Grazed by Chung and Rishari, Chani, Daoni, Sara, Nali which, according to custom, give manure to Uttam Ram, who is Rasu. Uttam Ram denied that Sangat Ram, Negi, of Shat, had any right; but he admitted he had been accustomed to graze in Ori-age, and evidence also established that fact. He may not graze separately, but with Uttam Ram. Daunspar nigahr ... Gindu-jaun „ ... — Grazed by Siah village of Kotkandi. Daule-di-bhal nigahr Toli-ra-thach „ Joni „ — Grazed by Bosha, Ningna and Masu, under Hirdu, son of Gopal of Bosha, as Rasu. Thakar-kua nigahr Tauti-run „ Gahru (1) „ — Grazed by Barsaini under Gunga Ram and Bolu, Rasus, of Barsaini, who, according to custom, get manure from those who accompany them. Gahru (2) nigahr Buju thach „ Pichla „ — Grazed by Nandu, &c., sons of Dila of Shila village.	1. The right to take walnuts, chestnuts, dhup, karu, patis, burj-patra. 2. The right to cut oak for charcoal; also branches of kail for charcoal. 3. The right to cut splinters for torches from stumps of kail and from dry standing and fallen kail. 4. The right on special occasions to cut standing green kail for torches. 5. The right to cut walnut, chestnut and yew. 6. The right to give licenses to snare musk deer in spring and summer up to the rains, and from 15th September to the end of December. These rights are subject to the general conditions recorded in regard to the Rai's rights. Sheep from Suket and Sahraj have been accustomed to graze in this forest.	In this area are the 12 nigahrs which are specially in the possession of the Suket people. Over the Suket shepherds there is a Rasoli or Shaloi (as the common term is) who represents them in all matters connected with the grazing. The office is hereditary, but a right of dismissal was claimed on behalf of the Rai, in case he did not make proper arrangements. He has the privilege of grazing free of dues some 400 sheep and goats, but every third year he presents a nazar of a large goat and a rupee to the Rai. He distributes the grazing and settles disputes among the Suket shepherds, and assists in collecting the dues paid to the Rai. These dues consist of— (1). Rs. 2 per 100 sheep or goats. (2). Extra dues— Bi-ka, that is, bis-ka, ¼ anna per score sheep or goats. Badru, that is, purse, ¼ anna per flock of 400 sheep or goats. Marni, Re. 1 per nigahr, however many proprietors there may be. The extra dues as well as the Rs. 2 per 100 goats go to the Rai. The Sahraj sheep are charged only Rs. 2 per 100 for grazing in Rupi.

Tulga—Slates, nirgal and minor forest produce as above. Thaches. Ani-thach gahr ... / Balingach „ ... / Tangru „ ... — Grazed by Huphu of Thalain in Suket. The Tulga sheep do not go into these thaches, but the people of Tulga claim manure from the Suket people. Bathi gahr ... / Chepi or Ujla thach dothla — Grazed by Tulga village under Suratu of Tulga Rasu. Dasu of Suket used also to graze in return for manure, but for two years he has not come, and his place has been taken by Rama Nand of Hawai, as Rasu. Rama Nand has died and now others of Hawai graze on these thaches; with the permission of Nikku, son of Surtu Rs. 3 in all is paid in lieu of manure (D. O.'s decisions of 1901 and 1907). Rorig (1) nigahr ... / Shail-mar gahr ... / Bandag „ ... — Grazed by Tulga village, and Ichhia Ram of Narogi Kotkandi Kothi grazes with them in return for manure. Rorig (2) nigahr ... / Parung dothla ... / Sawajani gahr ... — Grazed by Phulga village; the Parung thach is only passed through, so also Kutang-cho. Ti-Chandri gahr ... / Pani-Nainda „ ... / Jaglu Uperli „ ... / „ Bunli „ ... / Cho-banag „ ... — Grazed by Siah village. This village wished to make a thach at Churu Dhar, but this will not be allowed. They may, however, graze their own side of the ridge from Pani-Nainda thach and the Suket people the other side from Bun-buni thach. Tebla gahr ... / Bitla Tebla gahr ... — Grazed by Jalugraon, Parei Romas, Dianthla, under Chananu of Jalugraon, Rasu.	1. The right to take karu, patis, faran, burj-patra. 2. The right to give licenses to snare musk deer in spring and summer up to the rains and from 15th September to the end of December. These rights are subject to the general conditions recorded in regard to the Rai's rights. Sheep from Suket have been accustomed to graze in this forest.	The thaches are mostly recorded in the names of Rupi people, but they have been accustomed to allow Suket sheep to graze in the end of Bhadron and Assauj in return for manure. There are three sheep paths through this forest— (1) From Phulga Bridge to Gai, the Shari above Kalga, and thence to Bun-buni thach and on to Kirganga. (2) From Phulga Bridge up the Nala behind Suratu's field, to Parung thach, thence to Bathi Tebla, Pani-Nainda, Bun-buni and Kirganga. (3) From Phulga Bridge straight to Chopuling Dippi. The flocks go by different lines so as to get some grazing on the way.

9	Ditto ...	Reona ...	The following fields are included in this forest and may be cultivated as heretofore :—	Grahn—Full rights in part near village.	1. The right to take nirgal, chaku, aris, for baskets, &c., also chestnuts.	The Rai claimed boxwood in the Grahn boxwood Reserve, but it was shewn that the right had been exercised in this Reona forest, in and near which there is an ample quantity to meet the limited demand for this kind of timber. Indeed this is the only forest in which the box trees will be allowed to the Rai. He has also been allowed devidear in this forest, and also in the outside area under Tonja, where he has already cut this tree.

No.	Kothi.	Forest.	Proprietary rights, being cultivation included in the forest limits.	Forest rights admitted.	Rights of the Rai.	Remarks.
				Kacha gahr ... Dumga „ ... — Grazed by various shepherds, who give two small or one large goat as a propitiatory offering to Raban Deo of Grahn. Kacha has been generally grazed by Suket sheep, partly in consideration of manure, but principally because the Grahn sheep go to Suket, and reciprocity is kept up between the two villages. Last year the Suket sheep did not graze, as there was disease among them. Dumga used to be grazed by Phinju of Chauki, Shilahar Phati of Kotkandi, but not for 4 years or so; and it has been grazed by the Grahn people.
				Hochi Karli ... Pata-age ... — Grazed by Maniar and Grahn. Grahn gives a goat every year to Gumal Deota; and when the Deota goes to Ludar Nag 4 bhars wheat and a goat.
				Mang gahr ... Opti „ ... Kadehar „ ... Padar „ ... Bakar thach gahr Pariai padar „ — Grazed by Grahn village. There are some Dagis who live in Grahn and have land in Tonja. They are entitled to graze in these gahrs not separately, but with any of the 5 flocks made up in the village. They may not bring any except their own sheep and goats, and when the flocks go to manure fields in Tonja, they shall have the same right to manure as other proprietors of Tonja who live in Grahn; but should they make houses in Tonja, their sheep and goats shall then go with the flocks of Tonja.

				Bekhali Patka	... The part of this thach in Grahn basin is grazed by Grahn village.

The people of Sharan, being Rasus, give on account of Chiaru, Shilpar, Kasal and Disarn (which last is in the Gati-pat Reserve) two goats to Siling Nag of Kundar. For the dothlas and nigahrs they give Rs. 1 as an offering to the Deota Jagtham of Kashari, and the Deota gives the shepherds one seer kham ghi, 2 paths wheat, 2 paths barley, and every other year a pagri. A goat is given also on special occasions, as on a visit to Ludar Nag. Naranyanu of Kaniargi grazes in the lower part of Lauri-batti and also in Maili-dwar, and he presents 8 annas a year to Deota Jagtham.	2. The right to give licenses to snare musk deer in spring and summer up to the rains and from 15th September up to the end of December. These rights are subject to the general conditions recorded in regard to the Rai's rights. No foreign sheep graze in this forest.

Mail ... Full rights ... Thaches— Ori-thach—Grazed by Mail and Majan ...	These rights are subject to the general conditions recorded in regard to the Rai's rights. No foreign sheep graze in this forest. 1. The right to take nirgal, chestnuts and hazelnuts. 2. The right to give licenses to snare musk deer in spring and summer up to the rains and from 15th September to the end of December. 3. The right to give licenses to snare hawks from 15th September to the end of December. These rights are subject to the general conditions recorded in regard to the Rai's rights. No foreign sheep graze in this forest.	The Rai claimed chestnut wood from here but the claim was disallowed not only because it was not very well established, but principally because there is sufficient outside the demarcation to supply his wants.

32	Sainsar ...	Kaili Kanda, Tilaru, Shengan and Sainjat.	.....	Maraor ... / Sakti ..	Full rights near the villages. Sakti keeps sheep in Shigar Dogri on edge of forest, and they graze in it; so also Das of Majan Churu and Paji of Maraor keep sheep here in winter and each gives an offering of Rs. 1 to Bit Deota of Sakti. The other two families in Maraor spend winter in Sakti and each gives an offering of annas 8 to the Deota.	1. The right to take karu, patis, dhup, faran, burj-patra. 2. The right to cut ash (angha). 3. The right to give licenses to snare musk deer in spring and summer up to the rains and from 15th September to the end of December. 4. The right to give licenses to snare hawks from 15th September to the end of December. These rights are subject to the general conditions recorded in regard to the Rai's rights. Sheep from Suket and Sahraj have been accustomed to graze in this forest.	Some of the Sahraj sheep which graze in this forest come in by the path from Girthan Bridge and Majan village through Gara and Karshu thaches But some, especially those for the upper runs, come from Majan Galu in Shangar Kothi, to Humkani thach and Tathapani thach. which is on the Sainj just opposite Maraor. From this latter thach they cross into Rupi, or go up to the Chakrer thach, which seems to be sometimes grazed by the Naraingarh sheep.

Jawara (in basin of Rakti) dothla } Gugu-mua nigahr ... } Kaili thach gahr ... } Grazed by Maraor village which gives an offering of Rs. 1 to Dumal Deota. Jawara (in basin of Suchainga) dothla ... } Suchainga nigahr ... }	1. The right to take karu, patis, dhup, faran, burj-patra and reuns. 2. The right to give licenses to snare musk deer in spring and summer up to the rains and from 15th September to the end of December. These rights are subject to the general conditions recorded in regard to the Rai's rights. Sheep from Suket and Sahraj have been accustomed to graze in this forest.	There is a dispute as to the boundary between Inner Sahraj and Rupi above the place where the Sainj branches into several small streams of about equal size. The Rupi people, including the Rai, allege that the Danswar Nal is the boundary, and the people of Shangar Kothi say it is the Rakti Nal. The bondary is of some small importance as the Rai gets grazing dues on account of the thaches in Rupi. Between the two nalas there are two thaches the Rakti thach and Prali Danswari. These thaches are given in the Settlement Record of Shangar as being in that kothi, and moreover in the list of thaches, prepared at the Revenue Settlement of Rupi, an entry was made that these two nigahrs were in Sahraj, but that Moti Bramchuli and Sainjat, which are the thach-gahrs of these two nigahrs, were in Rupi. It appears from this that the Rakti Nal should be considered the boundary. The following thaches are admitted to be in Shangar Kothi, Inner Sahraj, viz:— Mati Naina ... Grazed by Bija Ram and Kaulu of Naraingarh. Bari Naina ... Grazed by Parma Nand of Naraingarh—see Deoage gahr.

			Gartu gahr Rati dwara dothla Mathaun nigahr	Grazed by Har Das of Dogi in Naraingarh for the last five years; formerly unoccupied.	Shili Danswar	See Bakrachigahr.
			Bakrachi gahr Partu dothla	Grazed by Thali of Srigarh, who also grazes Shili Danswari in Sahraj.	Dara dothla Nihari Naina	Grazed by Bija Ram of Naraingarh, see Nainthara gahr, once grazed by Suket shepherds; but they are grazed by shepherds from Naraingarh, who have gahrs in Rupi, and who pay grazing dues to the Rai just as those who graze in Rakti and Prali Danswari also pay. These dues must, however, be considered as being paid for the gahrs which in all these cases are in Rupi, and not on account of the nigahrs which are in Khalsa Shangar. The Rai takes the full Rs. 2 per 100, as if the whole of the grazing was in Rupi. At present this causes no complaint, but if Government should ever take dues from such shepherds for grazing in Shangar Kothi, it will be necessary to decide whether they will have to pay full dues to the Rai and also to Government, or whether only a part will be taken by each
			Jaula (2) dothla Rakti (of Sahraj) nigahr	Grazed by Devi Ram of Himri
			Ohang nigahr Gugu-tapa nigahr	At present unoccupied. The former has not been grazed for many years if ever, but the latter was grazed some ten years ago by Himri sheep

General Provisions regarding the rights of the Rai of Rupi in the Protected Forests of the Rupi Jagir.

I.—Forest Produce.

1. In demarcated forests, the Rai may exercise without payment only such rights as have been allowed and recorded for each forest.

2. In the undemarcated forest and waste land, the Rai may exercise the following rights :—

(a). The right to cut shrubs and trees of all kinds without payment.

(b). The right to take minor forest produce of all kinds (such as grass, fruits, medicinal roots, birch-bark, &c.) without payment.

(c). The right to take limestone, slates and stones without payment.

3. All the rights referred to in clauses 1 and 2 are subject to the following conditions :—

(1). That the forest produce is required for the bonâ fide use of the Rai and his household, including the temple of Thakur Rughnathji at Sultanpur ; that it may not be sold or bartered or used in any way for purposes of trade or profit.

Illustration.—Timber supplied to or cut by the Rai for building purposes may not be used to build a house intended to be let for rent.

(2). That these rights do not exclude the rights of Government as proprietor of all forest produce, nor the rights of those who are recorded as having rights in the demarcated forests, nor the rights of those who have hitherto exercised rights in the undemarcated forest and waste lands.

Illustration.—The Rai may cut bamboos in Surjani 2nd class protected forest; they may also be cut by Government and by those zamindars that are recorded as having full rights in that forest.

(3). That (as in many cases walnut and other trees have been cut for the Rai's use and only a part of the timber has been removed, the rest being left to rot in the forest) it is incumbent on the Rai to arrange that timber cut for his use be removed and utilized.

(4). That the Rai is held generally responsible for the actions of those engaged in cutting wood or burning charcoal for the supply of his wants; that he will arrange that charcoal be burned in such a place that there will be no risk of the forest being set on fire.

(5). That in the case of demarcated forests, some part may be closed for reproduction in accordance with the record of rights and existing rules, and that in such portion the exercise of his rights shall be suspended.

(6). (a). That deodar, walnut, box and ash may not be cut without the permission of the $\frac{\text{Assistant Commissioner}}{\text{Forest Officer}}$, but that fallen walnut may be removed without permission.

The $\frac{\text{Assistant Commissioner}}{\text{Forest Officer}}$ shall grant permission to cut such number of these trees as is bonâ fide required by the Rai for the purpose stated in his application, and he shall have the trees marked for cutting in places as convenient to the Rai as the maintenance of the forest will admit.

(b). When the Rai requires at one time from one forest any number of trees not exceeding ten of the following kinds :—

(1). Elm	(9). Shisham
(2). Alder	(10). Olive
(3). Blue pine	(18). Horse Chestnut
(4). Chil	(12). Celtis
(5). Spruce	(13). Mulberry
(6). Silver Fir	(14). Hill Tun
(7). Yew	(15). Kakaran
(8). Cypress	(16). Poplar

he may give a written order to the negi of the kothi in which he wants the trees, specifying the number, kind and size of the trees, and the purpose for which they are to be cut; and at the same time he shall send intimation to the $\frac{\text{Assistant Commissioner}}{\text{Forest Officer}}$, giving him the particulars of the order to the negi.

Digitized by Arya Samaj Foundation Chennai and eGangotri

The trees shall be cut in presence of the rakha or forest guard in charge of the forest to whom the negi shall at the time give the Rai's order. The order shall remain in force not more than 3 months, at the end of which time or sooner, if all the trees have been removed sooner, the rakha or forest guard shall send the order to the Forest Officer with a report as to what has taken place. When the Rai has reason to believe that the timber will not be removed from the forest within 3 months, he may before the expiry of the three months renew the order, sending intimation to the Assistant Commissioner. / Forest Officer.

No second order on the same forest may be issued by the Rai until all the timber cut under the previous order has been removed from the forest.

(c). When the Rai wishes to cut from one forest at one time more than ten trees of the kinds detailed in (b), he shall apply to the Assistant Commissioner / Forest Officer who shall give permission to cut such number of these trees as is bonâ fide required by the Rai for the purpose stated in his application, and he shall have the trees marked for cutting in places as convenient for the Rai as the maintenance of the forest will admit.

(d). The Local Government may, when it sees fit, remove any tree from clause (b) and put it into clause (a), and the procedure laid down in (a) shall then apply to such tree.

(e). Notwithstanding anything contained in (b) and (c) blue pine and chil may be lopped without a written order and without permission for charcoal in the undemarcated forests and in those demarcated forests where the right is recorded, provided that the trees are not less that 2 haths in girth at 3 haths from the ground, and are not lopped to more than one-third of their height.

(f). Notwithstanding anything contained in (b) and (c) dry standing and fallen trees of the kinds detailed in (b) may be cut and removed without the permission of the Assistant Commissioner / Forest Officer, from the undemarcated forests and from those demarcated forests where the right to such trees is recorded.

(g). All trees and shrubs not included in (a) and (b) may be cut without a written order and without the permission of the Assistant Commissioner / Forest Officer from the undemarcated forests and from those demarcated forests where the right to such trees and shrubs is recorded, but if the fellings are so large or are confined to so small an area as to materially affect the rights of the people or to denude the forest, the Assistant Commissioner / Forest Officer may order that fellings shall cease in that particular locality, and shall indicate some other place for the exercise of the right.

(7). Slates, limestone, and stones may be taken from the undemarcated forests and waste and from those demarcated forests where the right is recorded provided that damage is not done to any of the trees enumerated in clause 6 (a) and (b).

II.—Conditions as to Property in the soil of Undemarcated Forests and Waste.

1. The Rai shall henceforth be considered the proprietor of the soil of the undemarcated forest and waste, this right being now conferred on him by Government subject to the conditions herein recorded.

2. The Rai may give leases of such land for new cultivation and for the construction of buildings and of water-mills near streams.

3. The rights referred to in clause 1 and 2 are subject to the following conditions:—

(1). For waste land required by Government for public purposes, such as timber slides, encamping-grounds, roads, buildings, protective works in case of landslips, no compensation shall be paid to the Rai for his proprietary rights in such waste

(2). Government will continue to be proprietor of all forest produce on the undemarcated waste, subject to the rights of the Rai and of the people in such forest produce and it may issue rules for the regulation of these rights.

(3). In regard to the burning of the undemarcated waste for the production of grass the same rules shall obtain in Rupi as in Kulu proper.

(4). All minerals existing on or under the soil of the undemarcated waste are the property of the Government.

(5). Leases of the waste land may be given only for water-mills for agricultural buildings and for bonâ fide extension of cultivation, and not for grazing grounds or grass preserves.

provided always that—

(1) if the Jagirdar desires to give out any land for cultivation and the Assistant Commissioner, Kulu, does not object to his doing so, he shall be bound to offer it first to the inferior proprietors in the phati to which it is attached.

(2) in the event of any such proprietor taking it for cultivation and cultivating it, he shall at once acquire the same interest in it as in his old holding and shall pay for it only revenue and talukdari dues at the fixed rate and in accordance with the entries in the Wajib-ul-arz as to revenue and talakdari on naator.

(3) if the Jagirdar refuses to give land for cultivation to any inferior proprietor of the phati applying for it, the inferior proprietor shall have a right of appeal to the Assistant Commissioner.

(4) the persons to whom waste is about to be given for cultivation shall be subject in regard to payment for trees standing on the land to the same rules as prevail in the rest of the Kulu sub-division.

(5) the rights of the people to grazing, grass, fuel and leaves for fodder are not materially affected.

III.—Grazing Dues.

(1). Dues for summer grazing.

1. The Rai may collect dues at the following or any higher rates sanctioned by the Local Government from the Suket shepherds that graze in the 12 nigahrs recorded in Kirganga Forest, Kothi Kanawar, as held by these shepherds, viz:—

Rs. 2 per hundred sheep and goats.

½ anna per score of sheep and goats, known as bi-ka.

¼ anna per flock of 400 sheep and goats, known as badru.

Re. 1 per nigahr, known as marni.

2. The Rai may collect dues at Rs. 2 per hundred sheep and goats, or at any higher rate sanctioned by the Local Government, from the Suket and Sahraj shepherds that graze in any other gahrs and nigahrs in Kothis Kanawar and Sainsar except the 12 nigahrs mentioned in clause 1.
